

ACADEMIC WRITING TASK 1 STUDENT FINANCES

The chart shows student expenditure over a three-year period in the United Kingdom. Write a report for a university lecture describing the information shown .

February - Writing a Task 1 Overview The line graph shows the past and projected finances for a local authority in New Zealand. One of the most important things about the Academic Task 1, be it a process diagram, map, graph, bar chart or table, is to write an overview. That of course could significantly reduce your overall writing band score. It describes the main trends occurring over the period. You do NOT need to write your own address. It is clearly seen from the charts, revenue from individuals and other companies made up about one third of its income in , which rose by two fold in the span of 20years. Sample 2 You should spend about 40 minutes on this task. Secondly, when state income from taxes is inadequate, foreign cash injections are vital to maintain effective administration systems by paying standard salaries for governmental staff members who play supervisory roles in all sections of a nation. An overview though must describe the main trends. At the beginning of the process, bottles with different shapes and colors are gathered at the collection point. The four pie charts compare the electricity produced between two countries namely Germany and France in . Approximately students come and go by the area each day, and believe my new business will allow them to have a meal break for the day. Moreover, French speakers scored the second highest scores overall, closely followed by Malay and Indonesian speakers. Firstly, external monetary flow enables executive bodies of those countries to carry out a variety of functions, for example infrastructural development, social healthcare, water and power supplies. While, in France, hydroelectric made up . Some students work while studying. However, there was a decrease in expenditure on the other two items. However, scientists, lawyers and doctors can only be trained, and professional and systematic education and training programs are therefore more practical and suitable in the context of developing nations. Overall, the most of the boys are highly inclined towards games while, significant ratio of girls opted dancing. On the other hand, petrol was the only source which went down from . Writing Task 2 Some people think that developing countries need financial help from international organizations. These grades were high relative to Indonesian and Malay candidates. Search for:. If you want you can post it in the comments box below. You can practice it and implement these Ideas in your regular practice and you will assuredly get a positive change in your IELTS results. The line graph compares the past and projected finances, allotted at different rates for a local authority in New Zealand within a period of eleven years. Summarize the information by selecting and reporting and reporting the main features and make comparisons where relevant. The two pie charts compare the proportion of five types of energy production by the different sources in France in and . Introduce the topic. At the following stage, this liquid will be mixed with new liquid glass. The data is calibrated in percentage and the table chart illustrates the number of death due to infectious disease per people in Canada for the same year. In conclusion, owing to the aforementioned arguments, it seems to me that instead of monetarily assisting poor countries, global help should come in other forms such as advice and training courses. Healthcare and education remained same in the given period of time. It is clear that there are three distinct stages in this process, from bottle collection to the delivery of new ones to customers. This mixture can be shaped in a tool called mould to make new bottles. Write at least words How to answer this task?